Mr. Marshe proudly served his country in the South Carolina Air National Guard at McEntire Joint National Guard Base. During his time of service, he and his team were deployed to Spain during the tense days of the Cuban Missile Crisis. While serving, he worked on military aircraft including the Lockheed F-104 Starfighter and the LTV A-7 Corsair II, developing a lifelong appreciation for airplanes and aviation. His time in the military also sparked another interest; firearms, which later grew into a hobby of collecting guns.

Following his military service, he pursued education at the University of South Carolina and later attended Midlands Technical College. He went on to build a long and dedicated career as a computer programmer with the South Carolina Department of Administration, where he worked until his retirement in 1998.

Mr. Marshe was a man of the Christian faith who lived with humility and quiet strength. In his free time, he enjoyed collecting firearms, learning about airplanes, and spending time with the many dogs he loved throughout his life. His love for dogs and aviation brought him great joy and were passions he carried with him for many years.

“Milton has always been a great member of our large but now shrinking Hutto family. Ive always had good open conversation with Milton over the years at our not too often family gatherings. Even though he was 13 years my senior, we seemed to connect. He will be missed by all of us, with love, sincerely, Ted, Marilyn, Dorothy Faye, and Teddy Swygert.
